Oceanside Equestrian Center (OEC) is located halfway between San Juan Capistrano and Del Mar, on a beautiful 25 acre property. OEC overlooks a beautiful golf course with panoramic views of the Bonsall hills and feel gentle ocean breezes.

Oceanside Equestrian is a multi-discipline facility offering many venues of training as well as a friendly place for boarders who want to enjoy their horses. We offer training, and lessons in Western, English, Dressage levels I thru IV, Saddleseat and Driving. It's a great place to bombproof your horse, improve Natural Horsemanship techniques and learn the new sport of "Horse Agility."

For boarding and training clients to succeed in their respective riding disciplines, Oceanside Equestrian Center provides outstanding amenities. First, an exquisite Kentucky style wood barn has 36 barn stalls for clients.

Attached to this beautiful; barn is a spacious indoor arena which is large enough for driving and riding within the barn. OEC also has a large arena measuring 270' x 170' which lends itself to multiple disciplines and events. Great drainage and excellent footing are foremost at OEC. The entire ground is mostly decomposed granite, giving great drainage and stability in times of heavy rains. OEC is a full service facility, and its' Major Use Permit, the boarding stable is legally able to operate many aspects of equestrian business including boarding, breeding, training and hosting events.

The property features many roads and trails, which allow for nice trail riding on all of the 25 acres. In addition, there is a 2 acre equine playground on site aptly named “Horsin’ Around,” with extreme trail obstacles and horse agility obstacles. OEC is among the first in the US to offer Horse Agility and is affiliated with groups in Europe who have been sanctioning events in this new and exciting sport. Just like the canine sport of agility, the same elements of this sport are now being incorporated for the horse world in a new and fun adventure. Oceanside Equestrian Center is adding new amenities including a half mile, oval shaped track which will be rider-ready in November, and a separate schooling arena is under construction.

Turnouts and pastures are another coveted amenity offered at OEC. There are large turnouts for horses to spend time playing and 4 round pens for training or free time. OEC has the large 1-2 acre pastures in the beautiful atmosphere of coastal Southern California. Client horses can enjoy a peaceful retirement in un-crowded pastures or just thrive in the natural pasture life with other horses. The experienced staff at OEC offers all care services, including veterinary follow-up care post-surgery or injury. Alpha Sonic treatments and many other types of holistic care are available at OEC. Other boarding options include covered, individual-horse corrals and paddocks.

Dr. Moj Moghadam

OEC's Dressage Trainer, Dr. Moj Moghadam, offers full or part time training for horses as well as lessons. See Dr. Moj Moghadam's page on our website: Moj. Dr. Moj has a wonderful personality for dealing with students who want to learn entry level to very advanced dressage techniques. Dr. Moj Moghadam, a PhD in Psychology and Behavior, has 35 years' experience with horses and over 17 years of dressage experience. Her professional background lends itself well to both horses and riders who wish to progress in their training and competitive goals. Tired of spinning your hooves and going nowhere? Dr. Moj's extensive background in human and animal development and behavior will help to guide you and your horse in acquiring and incorporating principles of the sport and art of Dressage. Dr. Moj's expert understanding and application of learning style nuances of various species as well as individual differences within species enables more thorough communication and understanding in the training process which results in faster and more effective development of the individual. Beginners through advanced riders are welcome.

Shelly Devine

Shelley Devine of “Devine Horsemanship” primarily trains in Western but also offers Dressage, Hunter Jumper and English equitation. She is the facility's primary trainer for Horse Agility, teaching jumping skills, trail skills and obstacles skills. Shelley brings many years of training skills and education to our facility having moved here recently from Norco, CA.

Annette Puchta

Annette Puchta of “Paradise Saddlebreds” trains driving horses as well as saddleseat. Annette owns and trains American saddlebreds and hackney ponies and has great success stories from the world shows in Kentucky. She also works with other breeds for clients with horses such as Arabians and thoroughbreds.

OEC would like to entertain new trainers as well that can maintain a cooperative and friendly relationship with other trainers and boarding clients. At OEC, boarders and trainers will enjoy fun parties, clinics, outings, and more events and activities in store for the upcoming year of 2011. OEC is available for hosting hold events, shows and clinics/seminars. There is plenty of parking and easy in/out access for large trailers. Please visit our website for more information and give us a call at 760-717-1101. We're happy to show you around the Oceanside Equestrian Center!
